

FIRST PRESENTATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR

LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE GREETED PERFORMANCE

WAS A SUCCESS

Was Admirably Adopted So as to Display Anderson's Many Local Amateurs.

Almost a packed house greeted the first performance of "County Fair," a farce comedy staged at Anderson theatre last night by the Anderson lodge of Elks for the purpose of raising money for charity. The attraction was a splendid success in almost every particular and many of those who witnessed it expressed the opinion that it was one of the best amateur performances ever given in the city. The second and concluding performance will be given tonight at the Anderson theatre, with a slight change in the program. The "County Fair" is staged by Miss Annie Sara Bock, and the performance last night proved her ability.

Like many professional performances, "County Fair" has a simple but a most attractive plot. In fact, it can scarcely be called a plot; but an arrangement to include the best talent in any town. The first act, a little children's act, is a wonder in its simplicity and beauty, and the attractive Anderson children—some of them tots scarcely large enough to walk—captivated the audience at the rise of the curtain—100 of these little tots sang and danced their little moon song as if they had been rehearsed for months. In quick succession followed the barn dance and hayseed chorus. Barn dance was an artistic little dance by fifty little girls while the hayseed chorus was a boys number finished with a funny stunt of tumbling and somersaults.

The second "County Fair" act—showed Anderson's talent in a mixture of comedy and dramatic work. It would be difficult to feature all the "County Fair" folk. Miss Lydia McCully as Giggling Sal, Mrs. Rosa McCully as Mary Sprucely, Mrs. T. L. Cely as the widow who had just lost her fourth husband, Miss Frances Kelley as the bride, Mr. M. F. McGee as the groom, Mr. James Craig as the Dutch woman and Mr. Welch as the widower, were all good.

Two special acts were probably among the best features of the performance. The first of these was Mr. Whittington as the cycle specialist. His "tricks" were better than many of those seen in vaudeville. Mr. Embrey with his trick pony was very good. The little Shetland pony did excellently and evidenced training.

Of the musical numbers the Fluffy Kuffles chorus, led by Mrs. Theo B. Fant, supported by 24 of Anderson's young people, was excellent and presented a beautiful picture. This was one of the best choruses in the entire performance.

The Boogie Woogie chorus led by Mrs. H. H. Harris was exceptionally good. The lights were used with splendid effect in this scene, and this song and dance was one of the most entertaining on the program.

Mrs. H. H. Harris and Mr. Welch led the "High Cost of Living" chorus and this was also a very pleasing number. The college chorus led by Miss Nell Bewley was easily one of the best on the program, the chorus evidencing much training. Mrs. W. E. Watson and Mr. Proctor in a dance were good. The Spanish dance by Misses Fretwell, Cross, Hunter, and Jurdine was also a good number. The singing of the quartette composed of Messrs. Barton, Smith, Hill and Lusiter was excellent and was as good as that of many of the quartettes on the road today. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fitzgerald in a duet were good. W. W. Dickson as Madame Carlott and in impersonations was excellent.

The closing chorus, the See Saw chorus, led by Mrs. Fitzgerald was perhaps the best of the entire performance. Here beautiful scenic effects were produced with excellent results, the scene being one that would do credit to any musical production.

Parade Yesterday. Yesterday afternoon the dress parade of those who were to take part in "County Fair" attracted much attention. Over 30 automobiles carried the people over the principal streets of the city.

"UNCLE JIM" WOODWARD BELIEVES MATRIMONIAL BUREAU WOULD BE MINT

Atlanta, April 6.—"Uncle Jim" Woodward, Atlanta's celebrated mayor, thinks he'll open a matrimonial bureau when he goes out of the mayor's office, which will be on the first of next January.

"Half of my mail nowadays consists of letters from men who are looking for wives or from women who are looking for husbands. One is about as bad as the other," says the mayor.

Mayor Woodward's secretary, Gordon Noel Hurler, is a newspaper man and takes a great interest in answering the inquiries of lonesome girls and bachelors. The mayor says if he thought the inquiries were sent to him because of his wife's personal acquaintances, rather than because of the office he holds, he would certainly open a bureau and advertise when he retires from the city hall next year.

Only a few of our pupils were privileged to get to the preliminary field meet at White Plains the 24th. Our school won two first places, and three second places, and only five of our contestants, besides the flag race girls, were able to get there. It was the understanding that the flag race girls would be selected from the best runners of the division, that being the case, we should have had a representative there.

Laura Wilson won first place in sixth grade arithmetic, Allie Newton first place in girls ball throw. It is believed Laura and Allie will win at Anderson.

A Graveyard Story.

Atlanta, April 6.—Having no immediate need for his lot in a local cemetery, as he is a bachelor without any near kin, and this being the last place of property saved from a run of bad business and bad luck, Edward K. Lambert, an Atlanta butcher, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

In his petition Lambert says he lists the cemetery lot with no idea that his creditors will be interested but simply to keep the record straight and to show that he's not hiding anything.
